SUMMER 2017 UPDATE

The Paoli Accessibility Project is currently under construction with work advancing on the rail infrastructure and parking lot modifications necessary for the next phase of work which will begin at the end of July. To prevent the loss of parking during this phase, additional permit and daily commuter spaces have been created in the Northwest Lot (permit parking) across N. Valley Road.

The major changes that will occur in the next phase are as follows:

• Beginning July 31st, all jitney passenger pick-ups will occur in the Northwest Permit parking lot across N. Valley Road. The designated jitney area will be marked along with directional signage to the new pick up area (see Northwest Permit Lot map).

• During the week of July 31st, construction barricades will be placed in the area of the station building to begin work on the elevator, stair towers and new high level platform. Accessible parking spaces will be re-located to the front of the station building and clearly marked. Construction barricades will also require a portion of the inbound (towards Center City) platform to be closed. Inbound jitney passenger drop offs will continue in the South Lot. SEPTA buses will be unaffected and will continue to use the South Lot (see South Lot map).

• On or before July 31st, new daily parking spaces will become operational in the Northwest Permit Lot across N. Valley Road to accommodate parking spaces temporarily removed for construction.

NOTE: There will be no net loss of parking spaces during construction.

• After Labor Day, the Northeast Lot on the outbound side of the station (west towards Harrisburg) will be closed for construction. All daily parking (and jitney pick-ups) will occur in the Northwest Permit Lot (across N. Valley Road) as noted above.

Please allow additional time to adjust to these changes. Project Representatives will be onsite on July 26th from 6:00am to 9:00am, and throughout the week of July 31st to assist.

Your patience and cooperation are greatly appreciated.
